The relatives and friends of the deceased are entirely ignorant of the motives which induced her to take this fatal step, and the presumption, therefore, is that she was laboring under mental

We question if there has been such a sale in any inland town in the State, for twenty years, if ever. It was a bona fide sale, and is an unmistakable evidence of the high appreciation of our town as a place of busibess. Add to this its beautiful location its great healthiness and the intelligence and refinement of its citizens and its equal can scarcely be found. As a whole Culpeper, in the industry, enterprise, and intelligence of its citizens, is inferior to no county in the State. Indeed we may go further and say, that this section of Virginia, embracing Culteper, Orange, Madison, Rappahannock, Page and Fauquier, in all that pertains to timate, health, enterprise, and excellence of sciety, is unsurpassed. The man who is emiorably settled in this region of the old minion, and wishes, nevertheless, to leave to battle with the uncultivated wilds, the tude society, and the terrible fevers, of a hew country, is-we will not say it, though to C.
